Press Release

The Tisbury Police Department is proud to announce the achievement of certification with the Massachusetts Police Accreditation Commission. This achievement is the product of years of dedication and diligence towards the refinement of policies and procedures required to meet the standards of the Commission. I would like to thank everyone involved in making this achievement possible; all current police department employees and retiring Chief Mark Saloio. Most of all I would like to thank and commend our department accreditation manager; Patrol Officer Andrew Silvia, who worked tirelessly toward the goal of this great achievement.
